FARM AND ROAD IMPROVEMENTPOLE DRAG IS SERVICEABLE

Implement Should Be Drawn by Short Piece of Chain Attached to Center of Pole.

If you don't possess a land roller, the next best thing is a pole drag. The one shown in the cut is better than a roller for leveling and pulverizing the soil. It is composed of three hardwood poles 6 inches through and 7 feet long, writes Fred O. Shelby in the Farm and Home. They are fastened together about two feet apart by means of short pieces of chain.

To hold the seat a piece of board is bolted to the middle of the first pole and allowed to extend slightly beyond the last one. On top of this an old mowing machine seat is fastened, and the arrangement is such that while the seat is held in place the poles may work independently of each other. As the seat is bolted to the board, it can easily be removed, making the implement much easier to house when not in use. The drag should be drawn by a short piece of chain attached to the center of the first pole, as is indicated.

ALFALFA AS A SOILING CROP

Few Rations for All Kinds of Farm Animals That Cannot Be Improved by Addition of Hay.

On most farms where only a few acres of alfalfa can be grown successfully, I think the most will be realized from it, to cut the crop green and use it for green feeding. It is the best soiling crop that we can grow for all kinds of farm animals. There are few rations that cannot be improved both in economy and efficiency by the addition of alfalfa.

When using it for soiling purposes there is danger in feeding it to hungry sheep and cattle unless fed in moderate quantities after it has wilted. In my own practice I have found it safe to allow it to become wilted before feeding it to the sheep and cattle in the yards and stables.

In this way we can now mow enough to last two or three days at a time and haul it to the various feeding places for use when it is needed. It will keep in excellent condition if placed in cocks as soon as it is wilted and covered with cloth or canvas covers. In this way it escapes drying to brittleness and still keeps in ideal condition for feeding.

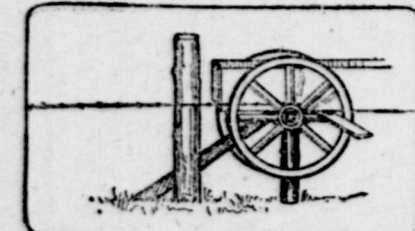

There is no danger in feeding wilted alfalfa to sheep and cattle that have become gradually accustomed to eating it. Many feeders give it to their teams, but it requires the best of judgment to keep work teams in good vigorous condition and every change in the line of feeding should be gradual.

It is a good plan to cut and cure the first cutting for hay and then depend upon the later cuttings to supplement the pastures. A few acres of this valuable forage crop should be established on every stock farm.

WAY FOR STRETCHING WIRE

By Use of Wagon and Piece of Timber Hundred Yards May Be Tightened With One Pull.

To stretch a wire, back the wagon up to within a few feet of the corner post so that the inside of the wheel is in line with the fence. Raise that side of the wagon so the wheel will clear the ground and prop it up with a board. Then take a 2x4 about seven feet long, and place one end against the axle and the other on the ground, says the Iowa Homestead. After this is done tie a strong rope to one spoke inside the wheel, then to the wire and slowly turn the wheel, the rope wrapping around the hub tightening the wire. When you think the wire is tight enough place a piece of board between the spoke and bottom of the wagon box as shown in the illustration. This will keep the wire from shaking. From 80 to 100 rods of wire can be tightened in this way in one pull.

HorticultureCUTTING BACK FRUIT TREES

Only Three to Five of Best Limbs Should Be Treated, Says a Colorado Press Bulletin.

A great many factors enter into the determination of just how a tree should be cut back. In this article, says a Colorado bulletin, only a general rule can be given. Only three to five of the best limbs should be cut back to 8 or 12 inches, making the cut just in the direction in which the limb should grow.

All trees should be kept low headed. Be careful not to cut off the lower limbs when it is not necessary.

When the trees are planted, the lowest limbs should be from 18 to 20 inches from the ground. If the trees have been pruned so that the top is much higher than this, it is usually best to cut the entire top off about three feet from the ground and depend upon forming the top from limbs which come out below this point.

Peach trees can stand more severe pruning than either cherry or apple. Peach trees should generally be cut off about 18 inches from the ground, and if there are any branches below that point they should be cut back to the first or second bud. Cherries or plums need practically no pruning except to cut the branches off a foot or so from the trunk.

VINE CUTTINGS FOR SPRING

Should Be Kept Moist Until Rooted, and Then Given Frequent Cultivation—Hoe Often.

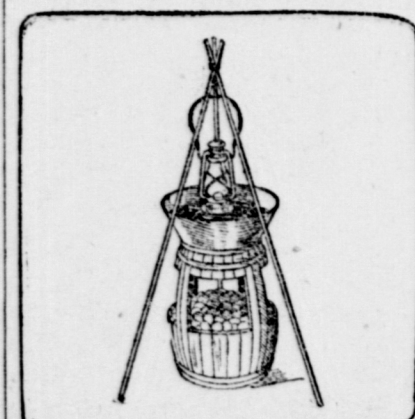

Current and grape cuttings, planted in beds in early spring, are mulched in late summer, preferably with sawdust or tan bark, and kept moist until the cuttings are rooted. Later on the propagating bed is given frequent and shallow cultivation. Hoeing is frequently done between the rows of plants, which are 18 inches apart. This keeps fresh soil around them, keeps down the weeds and water is given when the soil is very dry.

A propagating bed for strawberry plants also needs some attention. The weeds must be kept out. It is best to cut off the late runners, as the early ones make the strongest plants. If several varieties are in the bed set up boards between each to prevent them running together, and be sure to label each division with the name of the variety.

should be swung up as high as the cloth screen during the day, especially during the winter and early spring, so as to open under the drop board and allow the droppings to fall into the floor for removing. The nests are so constructed ed as to be removed any time for cleaning. A cloth screen extends the full length over the dropping board, roosts, and doored portion. The frame work being shown at C, C2, in C. A drop curtain of canvas is in front to be used on cold nights; this is shown at A in C and at B in D. An opening is made in each end of the house above the screen and is shown at A, B, also at A in D. A cloth screen is hinged above the window in A and is shown open at D in D. The small three-light glass above the six-light glass is also hinged and is shown open at C in D. The roof, side wall and ends are covered with tar paper inside in the half which is devoted to the roosts, nests and part of the floored space. The hinging of this house is nailed up and down.

ECONOMY IN THE BEST FEED

Nothing Gained by Purchasing Supplies for the Poultry Because They Are Colored Cheap.

(By A. G. SYMONDS)
No matter what food is given the fowls be sure it is the very best that can be procured. It does not pay to buy poor grain or poultry feed of any kind. Some people think it is economical to buy poultry supplies because they are cheap.

The best is none too good, is a rule as applicable here as anywhere else. Only the very best grains should be sanctioned. Only the choicest brand of feed scraps, fine cut clover, alfalfa, and other foods of this sort should be used. There is nothing that will repay one better for good care and feed given them than a flock of hens. See to it then that in the matter of food given them only the best be procured and only the best be fed.

Value of Charcoal.
For all kinds of digestive troubles charcoal is of the best remedies.

MOCK SALAD EASILY MADE

Cook Enthusiastic Over Dish That Should Be Good and Is by No Means Costly.

Any kind of meat may be used. I used roast beef. The recipe makes four large cups: One pint of lean meat, chopped or cut in very small pieces. Season with a level teaspoon of salt, a saltspoon of pepper and a scant teaspoon of sage. Mix thoroughly. Put half a cup of milk in a saucepan; add two tablespoons of dried bread crumbs and cook until smooth. Remove from fire. Add two tablespoons butter and two well beaten eggs. Then add the meat to the bread mixture. When well mixed fill greased custard cups, stand them in a shallow pan of boiling water, covered with greased paper and bake about half an hour in a moderate oven. Earlier in the day make some tomato sauce; one can of tomatoes, two or three onions (if you care for onions), salt and pepper. Cook slowly until the onions are soft. When ready to serve place a generous amount of the sauce upon each plate and turn one of the cups upside down in the center of the sauce. Have the sauce cold and the cup mixture hot. This may sound troublesome, but it is quickly and easily made.—Boston Globe.

NOVELTY IN TABLE COVERS

Of Tapestry Edged With Metal Galleon They Are an Effective Ornament.

Extremely effective are the covers for the table in the library or dining room made of tapestry, edged with the metal galleon. The shops offer the wool, or wool and silk tapestry, in unusually handsome combinations of colors. Some tapestries have the metal threads woven into the designs, this being the case especially with the changeable effects. The cover is cut to fit the top exactly or may be made in the form of a long runner hanging well over the ends or sides of the table; or, in some cases, it is made square, hanging down on all four sides.

A banding of the galleon finishes the edge and sometimes a second band, paralleling this a few inches from the edge, is used.

A cover of this sort is not only artistic, but has remarkable wearing qualities. It may be said in passing that short lengths of the tapestry are often to be seen in the form of cushions or napkins especially well adapted to covers of this sort.

Chocolate Fritters.

One-half cup flour, one teaspoon cream of tartar sifted with the flour, two teaspoons sugar, two tablespoons of milk, one egg, one large teaspoon of cocoa or chocolate, a pinch of salt. Cook in deep fat. Serve with vanilla sauce. Enough for family of three.

Vanilla Sauce—One cup sugar, half teaspoon of cornstarch; mix in the sugar dry, then add half a cup of boiling water, a little at a time. Let it boil five minutes until it looks like syrup, then add the yolk of one egg, well beaten, and piece of butter size of walnut. Whip all together well, then add half a teaspoonful of vanilla. Do not boil after the egg is added.

Baked Apples With Iceing.

Wash, pare and core as many large apples as are required. Fill the apples with two teaspoonfuls of dried currants, one-quarter teaspoonful of ground cinnamon, one level teaspoonful of butter. Bake them until they are cooked. Let the apples cool and remove them to another dish, ice the tops and sides with any kind of cake icing and put them back into the oven and brown them slightly. After taking them out of the oven place a candied cherry on top of each apple. Serve them with cream.

Good Stove Lining.

A good stove lining, one that will last two years or more, can be made from blue clay. Brick clay, or one that does not contain much sand, is good, also. Clay found in salt water marshes is one of the best for stove linings. The clay must be reduced to a paste, about like putty. The bed for lining should be brushed clean and moistened before the clay is applied. Put on with hands, smooth with a trowel or thin piece of board—Home Department, National Magazine.

To Make an Asbestos Mat.

An asbestos pad for the table may be made in this way: Get enough asbestos paper to cover the table with double thickness. From a couple of old sheets cut two pieces the size of the table. Paste the asbestos paper between them and quilt it on the sewing machine, using a long stitch. This is necessary, as the paper tears and pulls apart easily. Put this pad on the table under your silver cloth and there will be no marks made on the polished surface by hot dishes.

Celery Toast.

Cut tender stalks of celery into thin slices and cook in salted water till tender. Use but little water, letting it cook slowly so that there is but little left when the celery is done. Add sufficient cream or rich milk to almost cover, season with salt and a dash of cayenne and add sufficient flour moistened in a little cold milk to make a thick, creamy sauce. Put over rounds of buttered toast and serve at once.

Lemon Juice.

It is surprising how much more juice you can get from the heated lemon. Place the lemon in a heated oven, and it will yield more juice than one that is squeezed when cold.

My Doctor Said

"Try Cardui," writes Mrs. Z. V. Spelt, of Haynes, N. C. "I was in a very low state of health, and was not able to be up and tend to my duties. I did try Cardui, and soon began to feel better. I got able to be up and help do my housework. I continued to take the medicine, and now I am able to do my housework and to care for my children, and I feel as though I could never praise Cardui enough for the benefits I have received."

TAKE CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

Cardui is successful, because it is made especially for women, and acts specifically on the womanly constitution. Cardui does one thing, and does it well. That explains the great success which it has had, during the past 50 years, in helping thousands of weak and ailing women back to health and happiness.

If you are a woman, feel tired, dull, and are nervous, cross and irritable, it's because you need a tonic. Why not try Cardui? Cardui builds, strengthens, restores, and acts in every way as a special, tonic remedy for women. Test it for yourself. Your druggist sells Cardui. Ask him.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 2, 1913.

Entered at the Greenville, Ky., postoffice as second-class matter.

Once there was a prominent democrat who was mentioned for a cabinet position, but he departed a long time ago and everybody has forgotten his name.

On December 11th Roland Garros made a new height record at Tunis, Algeria, of 5,801 meters (19,031 feet). This new record was made with an 80 horse power Morane-Saulnier monoplane, which is the same make of machine that was used by Legagneux when, on December 17th last, he made a record of 17,880 feet at Villacoublay. While Legagneux required only 55 minutes to reach this height and descend to earth again, Garros, in attaining 1,152 feet greater altitude, took one hour, one minute, six seconds. A week later, on December 18th, Garros made a wonderful oversea flight from Tunis across the Mediterranean to Sicily. He covered a distance of 160 miles and landed near Trapani. French torpedo boats were used to guide him, and he flew at a great height.

For some time past the International Institute of agriculture has been urging the idea of co-operation among the nations of the world to check the spread of plant disease. The only approach to concerted and uniform action in this direction at present is that taken under the International Convention against Phylloxera, adopted by certain countries of continental Europe in 1878. At last the first steps have been taken toward bringing about more general co-operation. A notable discussion on this subject was held at the recent Congress of Comparative Pathology, in Paris, the attendance at which included the foremost plant pathologists of Europe. It was finally decided that the French government should undertake the arrangement of an international meeting of plant pathologists in Rome next April, which will, in its turn, draw up recommendations to be submitted to the general assembly of the International Institute of Agriculture, which meets next May.

Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Moore, of Powderly, have the sympathy of friends in the loss of a son, born to them December 26. Interment was in the Hayes graveyard.

That was the safest and sanest observance of Christmas that has ever been known here. People are beginning to realize that it is a Christian festival we are observing.

An Aged Woman Dies.

Mrs. Marjorie Jane Render, aged 85 years, died at the home of her son, Mr. Dick Render, at 6 o'clock on the evening of December 26, after a short illness from pneumonia. She was an active woman, possessing wonderful vitality, and constantly kept in touch with affairs, and was widely known and generally loved. Her body was carried to her old home in Render, and interment was beside her husband, who had been dead many years.

Mr. Abe Barker, who was in business here for some time, was here the first of the week shaking hands with old friends. He is now conducting a store in Hartford.

Miss Annie Bridget Doherty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Doherty, died at their home near Powderly on December 26, after an illness of some months from heart trouble. Interment was in Central City Catholic cemetery.

Fireworks were a drug on the market here this Christmas, people buying more substantial and appropriate articles.

LITERARY CLUB

We attended the Literary Club last evening. The Chairman said: "Gentlemen, the old year has passed out and a new year has dawned upon us. I would like to have an expression of the Club as to the probable results of the coming year, 1913. Altho it is marked the unlucky number, yet it shall make a history of events and occurrences to be realized. I shall request Col. Owsley to lead in the comment upon the possibilities and probabilities of achievements that may be made during the year 1913."

Col. Owsley then arose and said: "Mr. Chairman, I shall confine my remarks to the political outlook and results likely to take place in the year 1913. You all know that I am a Democrat. Now I shall first offer a few thoughts on things leading up to 1913. And I want to say to you gentlemen that I am a believer in predestination, foreordination and decrees. I care nothing about your creeds, religious tenets and faith; I believe that the Almighty has a good deal to do with the destiny of men and nations."

God moves in a mysterious way
His wonders to perform.
He plants his footsteps on the deep
And rides upon the storm.

I believe it because the Scriptures teach it from Genesis to Revelations; I believe it because the old prophets, whose lips were touched with fire from off the altar of Heaven, foretold and predicted the rise and fall of nations and empires down thro' the ancient of days. Now I believe that providence holds our nation within the hollow of his hand and that the Democrats are his favorite people; but unfortunately they, like the Jews, did wrong in times past, and it is said that whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth. Hence, from some cause or sin committed by our fathers in way of punishment, the Democrats were put under the rule of the Republicans and made hewers of wood and drawers of water for an half a century. But now I am proud to tell you that the Democratic party has been miraculously rescued and restored to liberty.

After using all the ways and plans that human ingenuity could devise and after exhausting the powers and skill of genius and of great and courageous intellects and after they had reached that period of disappointment, when there appeared to be no way under Heaven or among men whereby the Democratic party could get control of the Government, and when there seemed to be no eye to pity and no strong arm to bring deliverance, the good Lord heard their sighs of mourning and lamentation and knowing that they were hungered and famishing for official nourishment, he therefore lifted from the Democratic party the gloomy veil of the Republican party. I want to say that the night of our suffering was long, dark and dreary; but the good Lord so hardened the heart of Roosevelt that he became a mad, roaring Bull Moose and made war upon the Republicans. He fought the battle of the Armageddon and succeeded in splitting wide apart the Republican party, like unto the parting of the great waves of the sea, and the Democratic hosts marched over dry shod and reached the shores of liberty and restitution, a political Canaan of safety, whose green fields spread out before them decked with all kinds of official fruits and flowers, where they shall soon feast upon the fatness of the land and satisfy their longing souls and aching hearts and can peacefully repose upon the green pastures beside the still waters. Now I want to say that the year 1913 is going to be a Democratic year and shall be the most wonderful in our country's history since the time when the star of Jefferson arose upon the horizon of our infant nation and sent forth its radiating beams down the run of years. 1913 shall have no parallel of the past, but shall become noted and gilded in history as the year of the commencement of the national reform, elevation and higher civilization. 1913 shall be a most eventful year, a year of wonderful demonstration, changes and achievements. 1913 shall be a year in which our nation shall emerge from a long night of ignorance, tyranny and despotism that cause mourning and lamentation to be heard in our great country. During the year 1913 the rapid advance and achievements in every department of our country shall exceed that of many years of the past, for the yoke of oppression shall be taken from the people; then hearts shall be made to rejoice with glorious hopes and signs of deprivation and destitution shall be hushed, lamentation and complaint that has long gone up from the people shall cease. During the year 1913 the Democratic party shall make a gallant step up from the ridiculous to the sublime and at the close of the year 1913 we shall find ourselves advanced upon the scale of national progressiveness a decade of years from our present standpoint. Now why do I say so? Because never before in the history of the Democratic party has there been such a wonderful display and array of tongues and talent, of matchless intellect and genius, scores of men with great brains studded and stored with brilliant ideas shining out like polished diamonds penetrating the deepest, darkest and most obscure recesses of political mystery. Men with great living hearts freighted with devotion to country, with comprehensive sympathies extending to all the common people to lift them up to a higher and more elevated way of living and they are always ready, willing, watching and waiting to make a sacrifice of their lives upon the official altar of their country for the benefit of the common people that they so love, and to spend their time and talent in sessions for the good of their country. The year 1913 shall be the commencement of a glorious future for our country, a year in which the south shall assume control all the deprivations and losses sustained in its struggle for independence shall be remunerated and restored to them from the bounties of the government, so that there shall hereafter be no north, no south, no east and no west; peasants, sailors and soldiers shall fare alike and be put on equal footing. During this year, on the fourth of March, Woodrow Wilson, a son of the southland, and the Joshua of the Democratic party will take charge of the government and lead his people into a political Canaan and divide the official gifts among the sanctified leaders, making one of the greatest feasts ever realized since the commencement of the government. Wilson will take the wheels of the government out of the mud and place them upon a pike highway of travel where there shall be neither jolts nor jostles in its rapid movement. Wilson is also the John Baptist of the Democratic party to prepare the way and make straight the paths for the coming of a more perfect era, when the great Commoner of the west shall take charge of the sanctified and redeemed party in 1916. The Commoner knows no guile, but has been made perfect by much sacrifice and service; he will crown our nation with virtue and righteousness until it shall shine forth a brilliant beacon light and a guiding star of perfection to all other nations of the world, and not a wave of trouble shall roll across the people's peaceful and tranquil breasts.

The Colonel then closed. And after some comment by others the Club adjourned by singing the song entitled "There's a Great Day Coming."

HOW CHRONIC COUGHS

Are Being Cured by Vinol.

Did you ever cough for a month? Then just think how distressing it must be to have a cough hang on for three months.

Mrs. Marie Primrose, of 87 Newell Street, Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I had a very heavy cold which settled into a chronic cough, which kept me awake nights for fully three months, and felt tired all the time because my rest was broken so much. The effect of taking your cod liver and iron remedy, Vinol, is that my cough is gone. I can now get a good night's rest, and I feel much stronger in every way."

It is the combined action of the medicinal elements, cod livers, aided by the blood-making and strengthening properties of Vinol from which makes Vinol so effective in curing chronic coughs, colds and bronchitis—set the same time building up the weakened, run-down system.

Try a bottle of Vinol, with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

The After Hours Salesman

MANY concerns lose money every night by not attracting the attention of the crowds on the streets in the evening. On the other hand many other concerns prosper because they employ the after hours salesman—Electric Light.

You can readily pick out these stores on the busiest thoroughfares—their show windows pouring a brilliant flood of light upward, outward and downward, thereby adding an attraction to the goods displayed not obtainable in any other way. Few people can resist a glance at the beautiful effect—most people stop and admire it.

The proprietors of these big shops are well versed in all modern methods which make it necessary in developing trade. They know that the lavish use of electric light pays, and use Edison Mazda Lamps to obtain it at a minimum cost.

Our Lamp Experts will gladly assist your artistic window dressers in making your store and shop windows as attractive as the best in town.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER ABSOLUTELY PURE

Cooking under modern methods and conveniences is made so attractive the whole family is becoming interested.

"These biscuits are delicious; this cake is excellent," says the father. "I made them," says the daughter, and both father and daughter beam with pleasure.

Royal Baking Powder has made home baking a success, a pleasure and a profit, and the best cooking today the world over is done with its aid.

LIFE.

A little joy, a little sorrow.
Some laughter and some tears;
A longing for the great Tomorrow,
And memories of the vanished years.

A little work, a little play—
A share to every man;
A little dreaming by the way,
And life shall end as life began.

—Harry M. Dean.

Local Mention.

It was a fine, white Christmas.

Good morning! Can you write it 1913?

As we have said before, do your Christmas swapping quickly.

Many visitors have helped our people enjoy the holiday festivities.

Prof. McHenry Rhoades, of Lexington, was here on business Monday.

Mr. Hugh Bohannon, of Paducah, was here a few days with his parents and friends.

School opening again this morning, after a ten-day vacation.

There are more than the usual number of business changes for the new year.

Marriages over the county were well up to the usual holiday standard.

Miss Hazel Benson, of Madisonville, was here several days during Christmas with Miss Loreen Martin.

When you get "Quail" meal you get the best that is to be had.

Miss Corinne Morehead, of Morgantown, is visiting Mrs. Robert Wickliffe.

Mr. Joe Gest, of Columbia, Ky., was here this week, a guest of Mr. Benj. Martin.

Monday was county court day, drawing a goodly crowd to town. Some stock was shown but there was little dealing.

It will pay you to look at the wallpaper bargains now on at Roark's.

The boy who got a sled among his Christmas gifts was too busy with it for a few days to pay much attention to anything else.

Mr. Thos. Frazier, who is now located at Milan, Tenn., is spending a short vacation at home.

Mr. W. O. Belcher and family have moved to Bowling Green, where they will reside until June.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. North, of New Albany, Ind., have been spending the holidays here with the family of Mr. Dave Christian.

Read the tax sale list in this issue.

Mr. John H. Jonson, aged 90 years, died at his home in Springfield, Mo., the last day of the year. He was a brother of the late Judge Jep C. Jonson, and was the last male member of the family.

To The Public.

We desire to announce to the public that our new mill is now in full operation, and we will at all times have on hand the very finest quality of flour, meal and feed. We are very anxious to do custom grinding for our friends, and can give them the very best flour and wheat that is to be had anywhere, in exchange for their corn and wheat.

Important Real Estate Deal.

Dr. J. E. Bailey has purchased the LaMeade opera house block from Mr. J. W. Lam, and is having the property overhauled. The steps to the opera house and office section are being widened, and both the store rooms being decorated. Messrs. W. H. Brizendine & Co. will move next door south of their present location, as soon as the room is ready, and the vacated room is being sought by several parties.

There were many watch parties to speed the old and welcome the new year.

Notice to Stockholders.

There will be held at the office of the First National Bank, Greenville, Ky., on Tuesday, Jan. 14, 1913, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 12 m. an election of seven directors for the ensuing year.

Jno. T. Reynolds, Jr., Secty.

Cohen Bros. have vacated the Lam building, and consolidated their stock of dry goods with their grocery stock in their room on South Main street.

Mrs. T. F. Drake, who has been seriously ill for some days, suffering from a complication of ailments, was reported as not improved yesterday, and her family and friends are extremely anxious about her.

"Bob White" is without doubt the best flour on earth.

Aunt Vida Robinson, wife of Jack Robinson, colored, died of a complication of ailments from which she has long suffered. Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery and will be largely attended, as deceased was well known and generally liked.

Mr. Walter Jamison has purchased the moving picture show, and will move it into the opera house as soon as the alterations have been completed.

Best one ever made—the Kirsch curtain rods; Roark has a large line.

Miss Grace Duncan, daughter of Mr. D. J. Duncan, who was severely injured by a Roman candle Christmas night, is recovering rapidly. It was feared for a time that one eye would be injured, and her face badly scarred, but the injuries will only be temporary.

Lawyers are as busy as bees in summer, preparing for the winter term of circuit court, which promises to be a busy session.

Baby buggies at Roarks.

John Green Barkley, Sr.

In his 85th year, Mr. J. G. Barkley, Sr., fell asleep without pain or struggle, almost, at his home west of town at 6 o'clock on the evening of December 21. For many years he had suffered from organic heart trouble, but was as well as usual, and had been to the depot, where he met his wife, who returned on the late afternoon train from a visit of two weeks in Louisville. The family assembled around the supper table, but before the meal was finished Mr. Barkley arose from the table and left the room. He had shown no indication of illness, and said nothing, but when he reached an adjoining room called, and Mr. John Barkley was at once by his side, and caught his father as he sank, death being instantaneous.

Deceased was born near Danville, where he spent his young manhood, moving to Daviess county, but for more than thirty years had lived here, and soon became a force in the upbuild of Muhlenberg. He was a good farmer, an admirer of high grade stock and cattle, and talked and wrote much for the betterment of the land owner. He was a quiet, genial man, but strong in conviction and fearless in expression. To him, probably more than any one man, is due the credit for the great growth in Sunday-schools of the county. He spent many years in this work, and was for a considerable time engaged in the State work, visiting every county in the Commonwealth. He was a member of the Presbyterian church, and was a consistent, loyal official for the greatest part of his life since in this county.

Surviving him are his widow, Messrs. James and John Barkley, of this place, Mr. Harry Baskley, of Troop, Texas, Miss Sallie Barkley, of Louisville, Mrs. H. C. Clark, of Washington, D. C., Miss Sue Barkley, of this city, and Miss Jessamine Barkley, of Nashville.

Funeral services were conducted by Dr. Henderson at the Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock on the 23rd ult., and the interment was in Evergreen cemetery.

The home of Uncle Ves Robinson, a respected colored man, was destroyed by fire last Friday night. It was out of reach of the fire-fighting apparatus; most of the contents were saved.

Brizendine-Willis Wedding.

One of the most pleasing events of the season, and one that surprised most folks, was the marriage of Miss Sallie Brizendine and Mr. Doyle Willis, which occurred at 8:30 o'clock Monday night at the home of Mrs. Belle Brizendine, mother of the bride, the ceremony being performed by Dr. W. R. Henderson, and only a few friends in attendance. She is an active, popular girl, happy in the wide circle of friends, and the groom is one of the leading lawyers, ranking high in his profession, and personally popular with all our people, his geniality and personality being appreciated by everyone. They are at home in the W. O. Belcher residence, and are receiving congratulations and best wishes of all.

Death of Mrs. Sophronia Allen.

Mrs. Sophronia Allen, in her 85th year, died at the home of her son, Mr. Jep Allen, at 8 o'clock on the evening of December 19, from the effect of a fall which she sustained several days before, in which her hip was broken. On account of extreme age there had been no hope that she could recover. Mrs. Allen was a native of this county, and a pioneer character and active force in its development. She was a devout Christian, a member of the Baptist church, and her long life was crowded with acts of mercy and services of love. Revs. Woodson and Tandy conducted a funeral service at Friendship, the building being filled with relatives and friends, and interment was made in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Residence Burns Thursday.

A residence on College street owned by Mr. John Wells and occupied by Mr. John Kennedy and family was discovered on fire about 1 o'clock last Thursday afternoon, and was so far gone that the fire department could not save the building. The contents of the building were practically all removed. Both the building and contents were insured. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Here's to the new year! May the "13" part of it have no bad luck significance to you,

Morgan-Parker Wedding.

Miss Hazel Elizabeth Morgan, daughter of Mr. G. C. Morgan, of this city, and Mr. H. R. Parker, of Drakesboro, where married at the home of Rev. R. C. Love, who performed the ceremony, at 2:30 o'clock December 21, in the presence of a few relatives and friends. They left at once for Dawson Springs, on a visit to the home folks of the groom and are now at Drakesboro, where Mr. Parker is connected with the Telephone Co. The bride carries with her the best wishes of our people, as she is a talented, charming young woman. The groom has made a host of friends since he has resided in this county, and holds the esteem and confidence of his associates.

Texas Cowboy Co. at opera house opener next Thursday night.

The streets were safe avenues of travel here during Christmas, as the town was not turned over to the hoodlum element that has heretofore been in charge of the streets during Christmas, making it dangerous for anyone to be out.

Attend the opening of the opera house next Thursday night.

Card of Thanks.

We thank our many friends and neighbors for their kindness and helping hand during the affliction and death of our mother. May God's blessing be with them.

J. W. AND WILLIE ALLEN.

Mr. John Embler, a former resident of this county, died December 22 at Eureka Springs, Ark., where he had been under treatment and using the water as a relief from Bright's disease. His body was carried back to his home in Auburn, Ill., for burial. Deceased has many friends and relatives in this and adjoining counties, and was a man of strong character who made friends wherever he went.

Opera House Opened Next Thursday By Texas Cowboy Co.

The LaMeade Opera House, newly decorated, steps widened to comply with the building law, and under the new management of Bailey & Jamison, will be opened next Thursday night by the Texas Cowboy Co., a strong attraction, carrying its own band and a competent company of actors and actresses. This show should pack the house, as it comes well recommended.

A Calm View of Germs.

We all know that we live in the midst of a countless array of invisible organisms, and that to them we owe many of our most painful and dangerous diseases. With regard to them we stand, as it were, between Scylla and Charybdis,—the Scylla of ignorance or indifference, and the Charybdis of worry and fear—and it is hard to say which is the worse. The germs are here, and therefore we ought to inform ourselves about them, and take proper precautions against them: but it is wrong to let ourselves be thrown into a panic. Common sense should remind us that in spite of the omnipresence of germs, infection of any sort is rare. It is not necessary to become a monomaniac upon learning that money is generally "filthy lucre" in another than the Scriptural sense. We like to handle all we can get of it, and generally do so with impunity. At the same time we know the germs are there, and we ought to remember that the human mouth was never intended as a receptacle for coin.

It is disagreeable to reflect that hands are usually dirty things, but it is true. The most scrupulous person cannot keep a sterilized hand, except by living in a rubber glove, and then the glove would be dirty! The human hand is meant to do things with; you cannot do anything without touching things, and that means contact with germs. But there is little danger if we keep our hands as clean as we can and observe a few simple precautions.

Most important of all, we can learn to keep our hands away from our faces. That is a rule that parents and teachers should teach the young in the habit-forming period of life. The hands should not even be used to wash the face with unless they have been thoroughly washed themselves, and the eyes should never be touched by them.

Finally, let other people's towels and brushes alone. That is a measure of protection you owe not only to yourself but to them.

"I value your opinion so highly, old chap, that I'm going to ask you not to waste so much of it on me. Wait till I ask you for it."

"Yes, you've told me the story a dozen times, Madger, but go ahead; there's a sympathetic quality in your voice that I like."

"Going to leave us, are you, Muff-kins? Well, you'll be glad to know that your dropping out won't hurt our business a bit."

"I wish I could afford to buy as good chairs as you can, old sport; I'd buy a rather better quality than you do."

"Gregory, you had boy, I've told you a dozen times not to watch your Uncle Cyrus when he pours his coffee out into his saucer!"

Welcome Change.

Mrs. Knott Meek—According to the style books, Henry, the loop is to replace the button on certain dress fabrics.

Knott Meek—Great!

Mrs. Knott Meek—Why are you so pleased?

Knott Meek—I am tired of buttoning up gowns and I have always wanted to loop the loop!

THE REASON.

Riggs—I understand that you encourage your son to practice on the cornet.

Griggs—Yes, sir. He's only been playing two months—but today I bought the house next door to me for one-half of its value.

A Common Type.

Behold the shiftless, lazy man Who makes no effort to advance, And yet he hawks as loud 's he can, 'Alas! He never had a chance."

Remedy.

"This latest controversy has brought me altogether too much publicity," confided the politician. "What would you advise as a means of avoiding the spotlight?"

"Get married to some woman of social prominence and by the time people have left off discussing the bride this other incident will be forgotten."

A Hobbie.

Mrs. Stiles—How do you like my new gown?

Mr. Stiles—Reminds me of a crowd of theater.

Mrs. Stiles—Crowded theater! How so?

Mr. Stiles—There seems to be standing room only.—Judge.

Parental Duty.

"I'm afraid my son will detect my duplicity," said Mr. Ohlspott.

"I'm so frequently compelled to chide him for his lack of proficiency in his studies when I am secretly yearning to congratulate him on his fine football work."

Wanted to Know.

Mother—Freddie, haven't I told you that if you mock at the peculiarities of others you may grow just like them.

Freddie—Say, ma, do you suppose if I nickered at the elephant long enough I'd ever get so's I could pick up apples over the fence with my nose?

THE REASON.

She (at the musical)—He's advertised as "The Boy Pianist." Why, he's fully nineteen.

He—Yes, but he plays like a boy of nine.

Hardly.

The same relief is ready for you. Are you sure you do not need it? If Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy helped Charles Holmes, why won't it help you?

"I went out with heart disease, and after reading about Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy, I got a bottle. Before I got the Heart Remedy I had to sit up most of the night, and felt very bad at my stomach. Whatever I would eat made me feel worse, and my heart beat very fast. But thanks to Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy, I am all right now. I eat good, sleep good, and feel like a new man, although I am almost 65 years old. I have been a soldier in the late war of the rebellion, and was badly wounded." CHARLES HOLMES, Private Co. Indigestion

Stomach trouble is not a trivial ailment, and it is not a true disease. We think of dyspepsia, heartburn, and indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific nerve weakness—indigestion.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop to the solution of this most popular stomach ailment—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerve, it gives strength to the nerve, and thus restores the stomach to its normal condition. It is a simple, safe, and effective remedy for stomach distress, flatulence, bloating, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all other ailments of the stomach.
